

Dr. Tim vor der Brück

Tim vor der Brück holds a degree in computer science and economics from Saarland University, which he completed in 2001. In 2011, he earned a PhD in Artificial Intelligence (relating to Data Science, Automated Theorem Proving, and Optimization) from the Distance University of Hagen.

From 2011 to 2015, he served as a PostDoc at Goethe University Frankfurt am Main. Additionally, Tim vor der Brück has held positions at the German Research Center of Artificial Intelligence and the German Meteorological Service.

He currently works as a Software Engineer at ISO Software Systeme GmbH and additionally holds a lecturer position at the Swiss Distance University (FFHS). His research interests are focused on Data Science and Optimization. In total, he has published around 50 papers in renown research journals as well as international conferences and won several best paper awards.

Furthermore, he is an IARIA Fellow, member of the steering committee of the SemaPro conference series and organized several special tracks at IARIA conferences.